I'd Rather Have Nothing
Garth Brooks
Album: The Lost Sessions

Jumped in the truck and headed for Kansas Morning found me in Port Aranas Sipping on rum
In that warm Texas sun
I've never been good at keeping direction
And i believe schedules are one of life's worst inflections
And i gotta be free
'Cause I'd rather nothing
Than a whole lot of something I don't need

I'd rather have nothing
Than a whole lot of something That don't fit the life that i lead material things and all that wealth brings just must be for some other breed
'cause life ain't about the worries and doubts
That comes with the lust and the greed and i'd rather have nothing that a whole lot of something we don't need

I spent that evening in a tavern in town with a bunch of my new friends my money brought 'round and i told them 'bout you and all the hell we'd been through everyone there had a similar story years full of tears from all the heartache and worry and we all agreed that we'd rather have nothing than a whole lot of something we don't need

i'd rather have nothing
than a whole of something
that don't fit the life that i lead commintments and strings and all that love brings
just must be for some other breed
'cause life ain't about the worries and doubts that comes wtih the lust and the greed
and i'd rather have nothing

0h, i'd thater have nothing than a whole lot of someting i don't need
