Trust
Lewi Pethrus, 1913-15.

All that our Savior hath spoken
Came from the heart of God;
Surely it cannot be broken,
Sealed with His precious blood.

Refrain

Tempests may rage and thunder,
Mountains be rent asunder,
Nations may fear and wonder
Trust, and be undismayed.

As unto Abram was given
God's cov'nant word of peace,
"Counting the stars" of the even
So shall thy faith increase.

Refrain

Trust when the light warm and tender
Seemeth to Thee withdrawn;
Wait a few hours, and in splendor
Morning again will dawn!

Refrain

Trust! tho' all others forsake thee,
Yet there remains one friend;
Mercy and truth shall o'ertake thee
Down to thy journey's end.

Refrain

Trust under every condition
Till thou shalt reach thy home;
Trust, till in perfect fruition
That which is real hath come.
