

Just Because

1.

You ask me why I love the Lord,
why He means so much to me.
Well I've tried to count the reason,
there's far too many to recall.
So I guess you could say,
I love Him just because.

Cho.

I don't love Him just because,
He first loved me.
And I don't love Him,
just because of Calvary.
For there's at least a million reasons,
I start to count them then I pause.
I realize I really love Him,
just because.

2.

Not just for the loaves and fishes,
not just for cleansing from my sins.
Not just for the signs and wonders,
would I follow after Him.
It makes no difference if He blesses me,
it matters not what befalls.
For I'll love Him forever,
just because.
