Here Lies a Woman (round)

Here Lies a Woman (Round)
(Hilton)

- [1] Here lies a woman. Who can deny it?
She died in peace tho' lived unquiet.
- [2] Her husband prays if o'er her grave you walk
You would tread soft, you would tread
- [3] Soft, for if she wakes, for if she wakes
She'll talk, tread soft, for if she wakes, she'll talk.
